WASHINGTON DC, UNITED STATES, February 26, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- HR Open Standards will host their 2019 Annual Meeting in Washington D.C., at the Westin Crystal City, April 11-12, 2019. The conference will showcase how HR integrations in Government and Business provide your organization the best competitive advantage in an ever-evolving market, as well as use cases for implementing standards into your company. With hands-on workgroup sessions, you'll be able to experience what's it like to participate in the standards and make your voice heard.

Keynote and session highlights include:

- Cloud-Based HCM | Jim Jensen, SVP, Ceridian
- The Latest Trends at the Intersection of the Future of Work, Technology, and HR | Enrique Rubio, Founder, Global Hacking HR
- From Trough to Plateau: How Blockchain Will Disappoint Before it Massively Disrupts HR | Rick Barfoot (HRNX), Mahesh Kharade (Harbinger Group)
- GDPR: The Year After | Bon Idziak (Accurate Background), Ingolf Teetz (Milch & Zucker)
- Integrating Data Registries in a Connected HR Marketplace | Jeff Grann (Credential Engine), Susan Lupo

The HR Open Standards Annual Meeting brings together technology providers, HR professionals, and global standards advocates to promote awareness and industry-wide adoption of the Consortium's data standards. Attendees can expect to learn from the HR industry's top business innovators, network with business and technology partners, gain practical knowledge of HR integrations, resolve integrations challenges, and build industry standards in active Workgroup projects.
