

Exclusive VIP support for women! Pre-launch page is available on Indiegogo!

Now everyone can sign up for the Executive education and support #MeToo! Everyone is welcomed to rejoice in the finest things the educational system can offer.

THESSALONIKI, UNITED KINGDOM, GREECE, February 26, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Exclusive and extravagant private Executive education is launching its pre-launch page on Indiegogo to fundraise for its upcoming campaign to make the only female-only university in the East European region. The university offers tithe-based, tuition-free university that ensures young women don't start their lives in debt.

Started in the crypto community, founders of the UniverseTy emphasize the importance of privacy in doing good. Not everyone believes in the same version of feminism, while some countries, especially in the Arab world, see developing women's rights as a negative phenomenon. Hence, the privacy that is a standard in the crypto world is used at our UniverseTy.

Alek V. Ribak

Corporations that send their employees to the UniverseTy's Executive Education get to be featured on the University's Wall of Light and get the initial first-hand access to employ the most talented women in the world. These organizations contribute directly to the global empowerment of women to become or stay in the best versions of themselves. Other companies are said to be welcomed to join the scheme!

“We call on all reporters, scientists, politicians, businessmen, and judges, and all others who feel they want to support women, from all genders to purchase our exclusive Executive Education and support #MeToo!” Alek V. Ribak, co-founder and PR of the university.

If enough money is raised by selling Executive education weekends and seven-day experiences, the University will feature the Master in Everything! "She is amazing", said the organizers. The pre-launch page where potential supporters can register is available on Indiegogo, while those who wish to remain private can do so by making a new email address with an alias and write to Joseph V. Evans, the co-founder of this endeavor at joseph.hbs@protonmail.ch
