

Industry experts to discuss containment solutions & ADC developments at Highly Potent Active Pharmaceutical Ingredients

SMI is delighted to present its 3rd Annual Highly Potent Active Pharmaceutical Ingredients (HPAPI) conference taking place in London on the 13th-14th May 2019.

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, March 1, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The global market for Highly Potent Active Pharmaceutical Ingredients has recently experienced an increased growth, resulting from its major use in oncology for cancer treatment - more often in the form of antibody drug conjugates (ADC).

One of the underlying subjects of the conference is containment solutions and ADC developments where real-world examples of single use systems, containment for HPAPIs with low OELs and solutions to toxicity of ADCs will be discussed in fine detail.

The two-day conference will feature three key presentations from industry experts that will focus on this important subject, such as:

Mr Peter Marshall, Associate Engineering Director, AstraZeneca, will present on 'Principles of pharmaceutical containment in isolator designs', covering the following topics:

- Innovative solutions to dealing with the increasing toxicity of ADCs
- Designing single use systems
- Considerations when choosing between single use vs traditional use systems
- Real world examples of single use systems in industry

Dr Thomas Nittoli, Director, Regeneron, will present on 'Antibody drug conjugate manufacturing - coordination of linker-payload synthesis and antibody conjugation', covering the following
