

Christy Fox for West Palm Beach District 3 City Commission

Dedicated her life to honoring the legacy and service of World War II veterans known as 'Monuments Men' who rescued and returned art stolen by Nazis

WEST PALM BEACH, FLORIDA, UNITED STATES, March 1, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Christy Fox, Director of the Moore Agency in South Florida, is running for West Palm Beach City Commissioner District 3 and is armed with ten years of service helping the community and as Executive Vice President for the Monuments Men Foundation for the Preservation of Art. Fox has dedicated her entire career to helping people have their voices heard and its shaped who she is today.

As Commisioner, Fox will focus on issues that affect all West Palm Beach residents, including improving public safety, homelessness, creating local jobs and mobility options. Fox's professional background, executive experience and extensive knowledge of West Palm Beach makes her the most qualified candidate to serve West Palm Beach District 3.

For ten years, Fox devoted to serving and honoring the legacy and service of the World War II veterans known as Monuments Men who rescued and returned art stolen by Nazis. With Fox's help, the Monuments Men's story was made into a movie starring George Clooney.

"I love West Palm Beach and want to help shape its future and ensure a great quality of life for all. As a Palm Beach County native, it has been one of my greatest joys to watch West Palm Beach evolve through the years. With change comes challenges, but also great opportunities. I am excited for all the possibilities that our future holds and I wish to help guide West Palm Beach in the right direction and ensure that it remains a world class city. In my current position, I have worked as an advocate for the city of West Palm Beach and I know all the great things the city is doing and what it can accomplish. Serving on the City Commission will be a continuation of my service and will allow me to be an advocate for our residents," said Fox.

Fox spearheaded the Monuments Men Foundation's efforts to share their accomplishments with Congress. This resulted in the Monuments Men being awarded the Congressional Gold Medal.

Robert M. Edsel, Author of The Monuments Men and Founder and Chairman of Monuments Men Foundation for Preservation of Art writes, "[Fox's] leadership role was essential to the success of my books on these heroes of civilization [...] Christy's commitment to the Monuments Men and Women, and their families, was proven time and time again through long nights and countless weekends [...] I am positive that she would be an excellent addition to the West Palm

WPB CITY COMMISSION

Dear West Palm Beach Voters,
Please let this letter serve as a recommendation for Christy Fox, who faithfully worked by my side at the Monuments Men Foundation for the Preservation of Art for many years. Her leadership role was essential to the success of my books on these heroes of civilization, and the Hollywood film starring George Clooney.

Christy's commitment to the Monuments Men and Women, and their families, was proven time and time again through long nights and countless weekends. Regardless of the task, Christy embraced it and found ways to contribute. She participated in each step of the way with valuable insights and suggestions. Her encouragement to stay the course sustained me through some enormously challenging moments over the years.

Her crowning achievement, after nine years spent walking the halls of Congress to spread the story of the Monuments Men, was watching as these veterans were awarded the Congressional Gold Medal, our nation's highest civilian honor.

Throughout the years, I never once doubted that Christy had my best interest, and that of the Foundation, at the forefront of her mind. Christy Fox is smart, hard-working, honest, industrious, resourceful and loyal. I cannot overstate the benefits she would bring to any organization and I am positive that she would be an excellent addition to the West Palm Beach City Commission.

Sincerely,
Robert M. Edsel
