Organic dried fruits are superfoods, in which the majority of the water content is removed naturally through sun drying or with the help of dehydrators. Organic dried fruits are grown without the use of pesticides and synthetic fertilizers; they are grown using natural fertilizers such as manure. They are genetically modified organism (GMO)-free. Organic dried fruits offer many nutritional benefits; they contain vitamins and minerals and are low in calories. They are targeted at on-the-go consumers who lead busy lifestyles as they are an effective source of nutrients.

The growth of organized retail globally has led to an increase in private label products. Private labels are well-managed and marketed to improve the retailer's competitive edge. The demand for private labels in the fast-moving consumer goods (FMCG) industry is increasing rapidly due to the expansion of large retailers. Moreover, they provide quality products at affordable prices.
