This year will be the 100th anniversary of the event and it will showcase cutting-edge products and technology trends for restaurants. "We are really looking forward to attending this year" said Restaurant Magic's Chairman and CEO Drew Peloubet. "Our team is thrilled to be a part of the discussion and to learn from the best in the industry,".

"As a software company we are always looking to see what's next for restaurants, including advancing the industry with the products we develop," Drew Peloubet said. "The National Restaurant Association Show allows us to get a real sense of the latest technology and to be inspired by the great innovators that come to the event. Every year is a learning opportunity and I always leave with more energy than I had coming in."

Mr. Peloubet will attend this year's show, along with senior team members and product experts.

The Restaurant Magic Team will be available in booth #6864 in the Tech Pavilion South Hall where they will meet with peers and customers and discuss the company's range of products. There will be live demos and face-to-face chats, so attendees can see the functionality and benefits firsthand. Team members will educate attendees about the primary product, the Data Central Management Suite. This back-office software solution brings food management, inventory management, and enterprise reporting to restaurants nationwide. The robust reporting engine provides incredible visibility into business processes, including highlighting reduction in the waste stream and improving the bottom line. The team will also be demonstrating several recently released features like data warehousing, enhanced restaurant analytics and tablet specific interfaces.
