Inspired by the transformative powers of the Indian Ocean, water has a key role to play both in deluxe spa rituals and exclusive spa ingredients that utilize the ocean’s bounty, such as pearls and seaweed. Nestled into lush tropical surrounds deep within the spa complex, the Hydro-Vital Pool provides a unique and deeply restorative form of hydrotherapy with a range of jets and water features that massage the entire body. Benefits include improving blood circulation, stimulating the lymphatic system and flushing toxins. Gently heated, the pool has five different zones each targeting a different area of the body, starting with the Serenity Zone which features an air bubble bench to relax and stimulate the muscles in preparation for the circuit. The Reflex Zone has powerful air jets from below, aimed at energizing the feet, the vertical massage jets of the Rejuvenation Zone alleviate muscle tension, while the De-stress Zone waterfall shower focuses intense pressure on the upper back and shoulders. The aptly named Relaxation Zone completes the circuit with an underwater massage lounger that soothes and calms the whole body.

A Hydro Vital Pool session can be enjoyed before or after a signature massage or spa ritual, or experienced as a rejuvenating therapy on its own. Guests can complete the hydro circuit by themselves, or let a therapist guide them – should they have more specific health concerns. Fun Aqua Yoga classes are also offered in the Hydro Vital Pool on Wednesday afternoons, allowing participants to enjoy the benefits of gentle stretching free from the pull of gravity. Hydro Vital Pool prices include access to a Wet Lounge (his and hers), fitted with whirlpool, cold plunge pool,

Those looking for a purely relaxing aquatic experience can enjoy a second pool within The Ritz-Carlton, Spa Bali. Fringed in tropical greenery, the Balinese Bathing Pool has been created as a tranquil oasis, a place to sooth the senses and float away all your cares.
