

Registration opens for SMI's 9th Annual Conference on Biobanking 2019

Examining the evolving technological and commercial landscape to enhance your precision medicine development

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, April 9, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Come join us in September 2019 and; thoroughly understand the latest developments in the biobanking industry; network with the industry experts and key opinion leaders; gain insight into how the biobanking industry at the forefront at driving precision medicine and enhancing research and discover 'Drone4Care', how drone delivery of biosamples can be a reality.

The event will bring together internationally recognised biorepositories, scientific pioneers from pharmaceutical companies, and academics to strengthen current knowledge in biosample management and their research applications. We will cover the most relevant hot topics including: the latest biorepository technological breakthroughs, the best practices in biobanking, shifts in the biosample regulation landscape, the international biobank societies with ESBB and ISBER, along with a whole host of successful biobanking business model structures to help reinvigorate your biobank.

Plus two interactive half day pre-conference workshops:

- A: Reinvigorate your biobank through data quality enhancement and financial & economic tools
- B: The organic development of a sustainable academic biobank

Featured highlights:

- Discover 'Drone4care' from Laurent Dollé, the innovative and daring plan to use drones for the delivery of biomaterial. Additionally, he will be detailing the new promising technology of Tissue Microarray, a bioprocessing technology that can reduced the number of needed biosamples for research from 200 down to 1
- Hear from UK Biobank on the continual impact of GDPR on the biobanking landscape
