Little Craftsman highlights include Balinese dance, which is known for its vibrant costumes, stylized body movements and intricate hand gestures. As well as learning the basic dance moves, children will have the opportunity to adorn themselves in traditional Balinese attire. Children who are more musically-inclined can have a lesson in rindik – the traditional Balinese bamboo xylophone which provides the percussive backbeat to Balinese dance. They may also learn to play the metallophones and Balinese drum. Bali is famed for its beautiful arts and crafts and little ones can also indulge their inner artist and join a Balinese painting or sculpting class where they can create a treasured souvenir of their time on the island.
