The Company Offers the Best Features and Rates with its VoIP Service!

CANADA, May 2, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- INNSYS is one of Toronto's leading residential high-speed business and home phone providers. As a leading CLEC (Competitive Local Exchange Carrier) incorporated in Ontario, Quebec, the company has had its finger on the pulse of the latest phone, alarm and IPTV technologies since 2008. The company recently announced that it would be enhancing its home and business phone services which offer users with even more connectivity at competitive prices.

During a recent event, the spokesperson for the company said, "INNSYS is proud to offer its home and business phone packages that are flexible and affordable. "Our home phone features include, Call display, Voicemail, Call waiting, Call transfer, do not disturb, Call on hold, Call forwarding, 3-way calling and much more, offering our customers with a high level of satisfaction. When it comes to our phone packages for businesses, some of the features that our customers can look forward to includes, E-fax, Hunt group, Call recording, Intercom dialling, Conference bridging, Hosted PBX, Web interface, Local/international virtual numbers, Voicemail to email and more. The company is also looking to attract more subscribers by offering multiple packages, customization and some of the best rates around.

On answering a question, the spokesperson said, "What makes our home phone service different and unique from other similar service providers is the fact that we never shy away from going the extra mile to deliver a truly unique and unmatched service. We are privy to the wants and needs of our customers and provide an efficient service that they can count on. We offer our services on a monthly basis, no contract necessary. This offers our customers with the flexibility they need when choosing a service. We also offer friendly pricing and 24 hours sales and support desk to answer any of our customer's queries."

He concluded by saying, "Our clientele can choose between our various phone packages such as local calling, Canada-wide calling, North America calling and worldwide calling packages. Our
