

Registration Opens for the 8th Annual Military Flight Training Conference

SMi Reports: Registration is now open for the Military Flight Training conference, commencing in London, UK, this October.

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, May 2, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Building on the success of last year's event, SMi Group are pleased to announce the return of Military Flight Training for its 8th year running. The conference is taking place in London, UK on the 9th and 10th October 2019.

With new threats creating more challenging and dangerous air environments and increasing operational tempo for many NATO-allied militaries, it is crucial for pilots to receive effective training to prepare them for ever-more dynamic air operations.

The 2019 agenda will extensively cover the latest developments in fast-jet, rotary-wing, and fixed-wing training, as well as national approaches to pilot development and technological advances to synthetic and live training programmes. The two-day event will also cover the most relevant topics today, which includes technical air crew training, pilot retention and attrition reduction, and cooperating with external contractors for increased training efficiencies.

The brochure with the full agenda and speaker line-up is available online at <http://www.militaryflight-training.com/einpress>

As Air Forces move towards 5th-generation capabilities, NATO allied countries are heavily investing nationally in comprehensive flight training systems and platforms. For this reason, the event will provide a crucial platform for senior military officials and industry experts from around
