

MxHero Launches Intelligent Filing Of Emails To Cloud Storage Via Native Email Folders

MxHero provides organizations with a unique technology to reduce email threat vectors while preserving critical email-based business records

SAN FRANCISCO, CA, UNITED STATES, May 9, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- MxHero announces a new capability for its industry recognized Mail2Cloud product. The new feature provides an easy means for organizations of any size to capture, secure and govern important email content. Using the mxHero dashboard, organizations can remotely create special and customizable email folders in user email accounts. When users drag emails into these folders, the email message and attachments are intelligently filed to the correct folder in the organization's cloud storage service. Emails saved by mxHero are optimized for cloud storage with metadata, access security and automatic conversion of message bodies into PDF documents.

By leveraging native email folders and light-weight central configuration, the service does not require end user software and works with every email program or device (mobile phones, laptops, etc.)
