PUNE, INDIA, May 10, 2019
/EINPresswire.com/ --

A female condom is a birth control device that acts as a barrier to prevent sexual fluids from entering the vagina during intercourse. It protects against pregnancy and sexually transmitted infections (STIs).

The online stores will be the fastest-growing segment and will continue to maintain its lead in the global market.

Much of the segment's growth is due to its higher penetration rate and adoptability. Female condoms are easily accessible online and allow for useful comparison in terms of brand, price, and product features. Also, with the constant provision of reviews and feedback through online platforms, the segment will witness considerable growth in the coming years.

The APAC is anticipated to be the fastest-growing region in terms of market share owing to the increasing consumption pattern of female condoms in the coming years. The use of condoms is increasing in developing countries, such as India and China, because of the rapid changes in consumer lifestyles and rising awareness, besides the initiatives taken by the governments to promote the use of female condoms for the prevention of STDs and population growth restriction.
