LOS ANGELES, CA, USA, May 13, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- There's little doubt that Amazon.com is a very highly competitive environment on one hand but on the other, it is also a marketplace where a great deal of profit can be made. “Without the right strategies and listing methods it is extremely difficult to really be successful selling on Amazon, especially with some of the competition from China, high-level dropshippers, and other obstacles,” commented Casey. “I am proud to say I know the latest methods and strategies that produce results for clients on a daily basis. I have helped over 5000 clients, and even won praise from Kevin O’Leary from Shark Tank, which was really like a dream come true.”

According to Casey, important areas he focuses his efforts on for client's include optimizing titles, bullet points, and descriptions; finding and using optimal keywords; finding out details about the competition and finding out what works for them and why; keeping PPC budgets under control; and much more.

All of his work is based on systems he has developed and seen work firsthand, with no guesswork or unprofessionalism involved, that is sometimes often seen with amateurish SEO firms. Importantly, with the Chinese being ahead of American sellers by at least one generation in tech and Casey knowing how to overcome this, his SEO work can make a stunning difference.

Casey is as close to a true “Amazon SEO Guru” as anyone could hope to find with a realm of deep experience and mastery he and his team has that includes graphics, rankings, reviews, and basically covering everything needed in order to succeed on Amazon from A-Z. Plus Casey has a network of trusted affiliates he gladly refers clients to, in the rare case, if they need anything beyond what we he and MC Networking offer.
