

Hipshipper Now Has its Own Tracking for International Shipping

The international shipping company launched online shipment tracking for end-consumers, relieving marketplace sellers off a heavy customer service load

NEW YORK, NEW YORK, UNITED STATES, May 15, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Hipshipper, an international shipping company offering an end-to-end cross-border shipping solution for US-based marketplace sellers, announced its own tracking number for packages. Now, consumers making a purchase from online sellers using Hipshipper as their international courier will be able to track their shipment in real time and with unparalleled clarity through Hipshipper's online platform.

With free international returns and end-to-end service, Hipshipper is positioned to become the solution of choice for US-based sellers looking to expand their operations internationally."

Inc. Magazine

Hipshipper Co-Founder and COO, Jonathan Birger, said, "We are taking another major step in our journey toward simplifying international shipping for online sellers. Not only our sellers don't need to deal with the logistics of international shipping, now they won't need to deal with customer support as well. Combine that with our Free International Returns feature and you've got the most comprehensive and risk-free international shipping solution for US-based sellers."

Hipshipper will offer live, online support for the end-consumer to solve any issues that arise and provide hands-on solutions. Hipshipper's tracking information will be presented in a straightforward, clear manner, such as 'stuck in customs', avoiding the vague jargon commonly used in tracking interfaces.

"International couriers don't offer direct support to buyers," added Birger. "But Hipshipper sees itself as more than a shipping company - we are committed to provide online sellers all the logistic and operational support to ensure deal profitability on every item sold to international consumers."

This recent feature adds to Hipshipper's continuous strive to allow US-based online sellers to compete on the global arena the exact same way they do in the domestic market.
