

Storelocal Announces Lease-to-Transfer of Tenant™ Technology Suite to Tenant Inc.

Co-op expands technology partner base

IRVINE, CA, UNITED STATES, May 14, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Storelocal Corporation, the first member-owned co-op for the self storage industry, announces the lease-to-transfer transaction of its GDS-powered Tenant™ technology suite to Tenant Inc. The technology company will partner with Storelocal to provide independent self storage operators the signature unassisted move-in technology.

The transaction coincides with Storelocal's plans to expand its base of trusted technology partners.

We are looking for the best solutions for our owners and will continue to work with Tenant Inc. and those companies that offer similar strategic advantage”

Lance Watkins, Storelocal

“We are looking for the best solutions for our owners and will continue to work with Tenant Inc. and those companies that offer similar strategic advantage,” said Lance Watkins, CEO of Storelocal.

Tenant Inc. joins a growing list of existing self storage management software partners, such as Self Storage Manager, Storage Commander and LeaseCaptain.

About Storelocal

Storelocal is a co-op owned by independent self storage operators working together to sustain a free and open marketplace within the industry. Our partnerships allow for unassisted move-in technology and our brand services increase the profitability of our members. In just over five years we have grown to more than 1,200 facilities, including 12 of the top 50 operators, making Storelocal the 4th largest self storage owner entity in the U.S. For more information, visit www.storelocal.com/tenant.

Tenant Inc. is a new technology development company formed to build a flexible, modern option for self storage operators and replace incumbent legacy systems with functional solutions. This new entity aligns with fundamental principles articulated by self storage owners and customers as critical to their present and future success.
