

Perks Group Supports Teachers Through Massachusetts Educator Membership

RONKONKOMA, NEW YORK, USA, May 14, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Industry-leading Perks Group offers one of the nation's most inclusive and fastest-growing affinity programs to millions of participating members from various companies and organizations across the country. Through the Massachusetts Educator Membership, Perks Group is able to provide discounts on everyday purchases for thousands of teachers in the state.

Teachers across Massachusetts can save money on everyday products and services thanks to Perks Group and their national PerksConnect program.

Through Perks, members can access daily deals on everything from brand name items to exclusive local services or events. Participation in the program is one of many ways teachers can save money through their Massachusetts educator memberships, which also includes subscriptions to Explore! and discounts on tickets to community partner gatherings and performances.

PerksConnect has already been implemented into thousands of business locations across the country, which allow companies to reward their employees and offer more incentive to remain in their roles. Through Perks, members can search local or distant deals to save money on everyday purchases around town or while they travel. Members join a national network of savings that they can use to save money on goods and services throughout the states.

As a way of saying "thanks" to their educators, Massachusetts teachers are given complimentary one-year membership to PerksConnect that they claim is their "most valuable member benefit ever."* Among other notable resources, members can use either their computers or their smartphones to access deals at over 50,000 locations in all 50 states. Additionally, more than 300 online retailers offer savings through the program, allowing teachers a variety of ways to save.

For over 30 years, Perks Group has secured exclusive discounts and benefits for their millions of members. The PerksConnect program is state-of-the-art and gives each user their own login and profile and allows them to shop in any way they're most comfortable with. Members can access deals by using an 800-number, through a link during online shopping, by printing out coupons and presenting them at checkout, or by using the mobile application to pull up savings.

Besides the extensive network of national discounts, PerksConnect members also get exclusive professional tools and resources that improve various processes for educators. For example, Perks Group offers time-saving management tools for efficiency and regional search options for locating distant deals in case of travel or price comparisons. Over 200,000 businesses across the U.S. allow members to apply Perks discounts to their final bills, which makes it one of the widest-reaching affinity programs available today.

Massachusetts educators simply login to their accounts in one of two easy methods to get a refreshed list of deals in their area. Perks Group is a comprehensive program with many ways to save, and it prompts teachers in Massachusetts to continue providing outstanding education to the state's youth.
