

Commercial Property Finds a New Digital Destination in the UAE

DUBAI, DUBAI, UNITED ARAB EMIRATES, May 15, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The founding partners behind hugely successful luxury brokerage LuxuryProperty.com have recently launched a digital platform for the sale and rental of commercial properties, quite aptly named CommercialProperty.ae. This unique platform will be a dedicated resource for buyers, sellers, landlords and tenants who have a requirement related to commercial real estate in Dubai and across the UAE. The site will list assets across a broad spectrum, from office buildings and warehouses to five-star hotels and hospitals.

CommercialProperty.ae pairs a bespoke digital platform and strong online presence with an expert brokerage team. It is after all, the same formula that has led its older sibling to success so it comes as no surprise that founders Jason Hayes and Andrew Cummings would want to repeat it. Since its inception, LuxuryProperty.com has quickly established itself as Dubai's premier luxury brokerage, providing a global client base with access to the world's finest homes. As the firm continues to grow, the move into commercial properties is a natural evolution.

Jason Hayes, who is the firm's CEO and brings with him over 20 years of experience in real estate, is excited about this next step. "This is a fantastic addition to our stable of digital assets. Our growth into the commercial property market is a natural extension of our service. CommercialProperty.ae will be providing the finest purchase, rental and investment options within the UAE and our team of experienced advisors will work personally with each of our clients to ensure that they find the property that best meets their needs."

Jason Hayes, Founder & CEO of CommercialProperty.ae
