New Social Network Online Town Launches Privacy Oriented Community

NEW YORK, NEW YORK, US, May 17, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Online Town has announced the launch of its new social network community which focuses on becoming the most user-friendly and privacy oriented online community on the web. Unlike most existing social networks, Online Town doesn't ask users for personal details.

Online Town

"The internet is growing from day to day and most social networks focus on collecting as many details of their users to torn them into money. Profile data is analyzed, combined and then sold to third parties. This is where Online Tone comes in to set an end to such negative and invasive networks. At Online Town, members do not have to provide any personal data and our team makes sure no data will ever be shared with any third parties.", Thomas Jansen commented.
