Whether operations and fleet managers are looking to upgrade their fleets or provide amenities for their employees, we look forward to helping them find EV charging solutions during the show.”

Jesus Ferro, director of marketing at SemaConnect

“We are excited to be exhibiting at the Green Transportation Summit & Expo,” said Jesus Ferro, director of marketing at SemaConnect. “The future is here, and more and more fleets and corporations are transitioning to electric vehicles. No trade show symbolizes this more than GTSE.”

“With residents and businesses in the Pacific Northwest rapidly switching from gasoline to electric vehicles, the need for EV charging stations here is at a record high,” continued Ferro. “The Green Transportation Summit & Expo provides us an excellent opportunity to show attendees how SemaConnect’s smart EV charging stations can meet this demand. Whether operations and fleet managers are looking to upgrade their fleets or provide amenities for their employees, we look forward to helping them find solutions during the show.”

The SemaConnect Series 6 EV charging station is designed for shared use at commercial properties. In addition to the sleek, futuristic, compact design, the Series 6 EV charging station is also rugged, weatherproof, and made to withstand the harshest elements for years of worry-free operation. GTSE attendees can view the Series 6 and ask the SemaConnect representatives their EV charging questions at Booth 101.
