Whenever you're stuck with a clogged drain, a sudden leak of brown water, a shower that won't heat up, or an unpleasant odor that's ruining your day (or night!), a quick call to The Clog Dawg Plumbing will have them speeding to your door, diagnosing the source of the problem, and getting your plumbing system back into service in record time.

Whether it's a weekend morning plumbing leak or a midnight clog that threatens your quality of life, The Clog Dawg Plumbing is more than ready to set appointments (and arrive on time) for repairs that meet your needs, suit your schedule, and lift the unwanted burden of plumbing worries from your shoulders.

And they're not just speedy. They're highly professional, totally knowledgeable, experienced, fully equipped, capable of advocating on your behalf with your insurance company, and 100% dedicated to solving your plumbing problems completely, the first time, and every time. Those are some of the reasons the customer reviews for The Clog Dawg Plumbing are so uniformly excellent, and why referrals from satisfied customers have been The Clog Dawg Plumbing's primary source of business growth.

The Clog Dawg Team

One feature of The Clog Dawg Plumbing's unique brand of high-quality plumbing services is their practice of giving their customers more than one option. Most plumbers take a quick look at an issue and want to fix it the traditional way – and that's all they know how to do. The Clog Dawg Plumbing, on the other hand, can often supply you with a variety of choices to meet your needs, such as:

An immediate fix to get you back in service right away,
A longer term plumbing repair that will prevent an early reoccurrence of the same problem, or
A major upgrade that will not only solve your immediate problem, but will also improve your plumbing system's performance and last as close to "forever" as a plumbing system can ever get.

The Clog Dawg 2

The Clog Dawg's plumbers are happy to work with a customer, help him or her understand exactly what's gone wrong with the plumbing system, and provide detailed information so the customer can fully participate in required decision-making to choose the course of action that suits them best. Many times, The Clog Dawg Plumbing's team of experts can offer solutions to your plumbing problems that are easier, quicker, and less expensive than traditional remedies other plumbers might insist on.

What's more, The Clog Dawg Plumbing works hard to keep their customers' plumbing systems in tip-top shape, as well as offer advice on simple but effective preventive measures. Once they are "on the case," you're much less likely to experience another midnight clog or weekend leak in the future.

While service this good and this fast might be worth a great deal extra, The Clog Dawg Plumbing's prices are highly competitive with any of the slower-to-respond-and-repair, less knowledgeable, less expert plumbers you might be using now.

The Clog Dawg Plumbing is on call, right now, to serve customers anywhere in Cobb County and the North Atlanta metropolitan area.
