

CompanionLink launches DejaOffice Personal CRM with Apps for Windows, Android and iPhone

Personal CRM helps you track Contacts, Calendar, Tasks and Notes smoothly with your PC and Mobile Phone

PORTLAND, OR, US, May 20, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- CompanionLink Software has launched DejaOffice PC Personal CRM, a fast and easy Personal Relations Manager (PRM) tool for Windows, Android and iPhone. The App is a Contact based CRM with scheduled items and tasks linked to the contact and category. DejaOffice Calendar has color categories which many people use to organize their day. Also featured are calendar emojis that make the day more pleasant to view. Tasks, Notes, Deals, Expenses, and History round out the CRM features in the App.

“Effective contact management is the heart of a productive day,” says Wayland Bruns, CEO of CompanionLink. “Every call and meeting is an opportunity to connect-the-dots of your personal life. When you finish the call, make notes and followups. Then let your tools remind you when to do them. Android and iPhone apps lack any way to connect a calendar item to a contact or to check off tasks effectively. While there is always an “App for that”, it is not efficient to clutter your phone for every separate tool needed for the CRM process.”

DejaOffice incorporates many popular features of PC based CRM programs including easy backups, color categories, automatic appointment alarms and followup notes. You can quickly import your Contact and Calendar data when you first run it. Import data sources include Outlook, Google, and Palm Desktop. DejaOffice also has separate versions specific to Outlook CRM and Google Calendar CRM.

“The best Customer Relations tools are fast,” says Bruns. “And that means they run entirely on your PC and not the Cloud. When a person calls me, I want to launch the app, search their name, and see what my last email and appointment was, all in about five seconds. DejaOffice Personal CRM does that. It gives me time to focus on a productive conversation, not on opening a cumbersome browser window that requires a login.”
