

Fox 8 Cleveland's Taboo Talk : Erectile Dysfunction & Treatment Options

How GainsWave® Therapy Can Optimize Your Sexual Performance

CLEVELAND, OHIO, UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, May 21, 2019

/EINPresswire.com/ -- In a recent segment

of New Day Cleveland, Dr. Stephen Kroth and Jen Frey (Patient Care Coordinator) from PA Green Wellness

shared a revolutionary therapy that treats one of men's most dreaded disorders, erectile dysfunction. Host David Moss recalled the large amount of radio ads about ED he'd heard. This made him think that many people must be affected by this unspoken suffering.

Jen Frey agreed and said, "Erectile dysfunction has been a shame-based topic and it doesn't need to be. There are a lot of breakthroughs that can help."

Dr. Kroth introduced Gainswave therapy, also known as acoustic sound wave therapy, explaining how it offers an additional or alternative approach to medications that potentially come with unwanted risks and side effects. Not only is Gainswave natural, but more importantly it treats the cause of ED at a core level.

During an appointment, low-energy sound waves are applied directly to various areas of the penis. These sound waves break up plaque that restricts blood flow and encourages the body to create new blood vessels, resulting in firmer erections and increased sex drive. With short 20 minute sessions and no recovery or down time necessary, men are pleasantly surprised with how this non-invasive procedure offers them freedom to enjoy their sexuality without the pre-planning that medication requires.

Although Gainswave therapy has been used widely in Europe for more than 15 years, this unique approach to treating the cause of erectile dysfunction has been lesser known in the United States until recently. This natural alternative to enhancing male performance is taking off, delivering the results and satisfaction that both men and women desire.

Currently, PA Wellness' offices are located throughout Pennsylvania and Delaware, offering Gainswave treatments to men from the state of Ohio at their closest location at 5050 W Ridge Road Suite 101, Erie, PA 16506 (get directions).
