

The Way to Happiness Association Tampa Bay Aims to Restore Common Sense Values in Local Neighborhoods

CLEARWATER, FLORIDA, US, May 23, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- On Saturday May 18th, volunteers of The Way to Happiness (TWTH) Association Tampa Bay distributed over 400 The Way to Happiness, the nonreligious moral code written by humanitarian L. Ron Hubbard at a festival in Downtown Clearwater. For the past three and a half years, volunteers have been distributing TWTH booklets in Clearwater neighborhoods with the aim of improving their neighborhoods.

“Beneath society’s rampant crime and drug abuse, corporate greed, political misconduct and international conflict lies the root problems of dishonesty and immorality,” said Tanja Cranton, the Executive Director of The Way to Happiness Association Tampa Bay. “That is why we go out into our neighborhoods almost every day - to share The Way to Happiness with its common sense values.”

According to TWTH, volunteers have used the booklets in crisis zones to spread calm and reduce crime. For example, TWTH Tampa Bay distributed booklets in every household of one neighborhood and in just one year, crime fell over 70%. While in Los Angeles, to reduce gang activity, TWTH volunteers removed graffiti from 130 buildings while passing out thousands of copies of the booklet and the once alarming murder rate fell to zero.

Immensely popular since its first publication in 1981, more than 115 million copies have since been distributed in 205 countries and territories, providing a moral compass for all to live by. As L. Ron Hubbard stated, “With the Way to Happiness you can factually change all this. All you have to do is keep that booklet flowing in the society. Like gentle oil spread upon the raging sea, the calm will flow outward and outward.”
