

EEACS Holds First Signing Day for Seniors

Seniors at the Allentown charter school have earned over $500,000 in scholarships and grants.

ALLENTOWN, PENNSYLVANIA, UNITED STATES, June 12, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Executive Education Academy Charter School in Allentown held its first college signing day for seniors on Tuesday, May 7. Eight students signed with East Stroudsburg University. Meanwhile, dozens of other students have committed to schools across the East Coast.

“We are so proud of the accomplishments our students have made,” says Robert Lysek, founder and CEO of the Lehigh Valley charter school. “We have no doubt that bright futures are in store for them.”

It has been an honor to watch these students thrive.”

Bob Lysek, CEO & Founder

Over 100 EEACS graduates will pursue careers or post-secondary education. Many students have enrolled in colleges, including Lehigh University, Penn State, West Chester University, and Arcadia.

The seniors making up EEACS’s Class of 2019 will be the school’s first graduating class. Together, they have earned over $500,000 in scholarships and grants to various colleges and universities.

“It has been an honor to watch these students thrive,” adds Lysek.
