NATIONAL REPARATIONS DAY
MONDAY JULY 1 2019

For over 400 years Black people in America (Afro-Descendants) have suffered under the worst Holocaust and enslavement known to mankind. The tragic and chronic effects of the Trans-Atlantic slave trade, segregation, continued human rights violations, police brutality, poverty, poor education, self-hatred and a host other ills plague our community that are a direct result of the Black Holocaust suffered at the hands of white America.

Take a stand July 1, 2019 and join the National Day of Reparations and take a positive affirmative act towards building a united-front to achieve Reparations for our people.
