

Alpaca Launches Commission-Free Short Selling on Stock Trading Platform

Alpaca's commission-free stock trading platform offers short selling and margin trading with a margin rate of 3.75%, amongst the lowest rate in the industry

SAN MATEO, CA, USA, July 8, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Alpaca, an API-first commission-free stock brokerage providing a leading developer-friendly trading platform and community, has released commission-free short selling, margin trading with 3.75% margin rate amongst the lowest in the industry, premarket & after-hours trading, and business account onboarding. Alpaca's commission-free trading API is designed to be seamless for developers to build trading algorithms as well as services and apps.

"Since launching the Alpaca Trading API only 9 months ago, we have had the pleasure of supporting the activity of a growing number of individuals and businesses, from hobbyist coders to hedge funds," said Yoshi Yokokawa, Alpaca's Co-Founder and CEO. "Today, we are excited to announce new features highly requested from the community, and we are even more excited to see how these new features will be utilized."
