BRICK, NEW JERSEY, UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, June 27, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Investors Bank and the New Jersey Devils are celebrating Brick Township's great youth hockey tradition on Saturday, June 29. The Devils Day celebration will be held at the Investors' branch in Brick (located at 639 Brick Boulevard near the intersection with Hooper Avenue) and the action begins at 10:00 a.m. The branch team, fans and guests are also planning a warm, hometown welcome for local legend and former New Jersey Devils forward Jim Dowd.

We are hosting the Brick event to recognize the community's exceptional youth hockey programs that help boys and girls to achieve their potential on the rink and in their lives”

Investors Bank Chief Retail Banking Officer William Brown

Jim grew up in Brick where he played hockey on travel teams and helped his high school squad win a New Jersey state championship. He was the first hockey player drafted from New Jersey to join, skate and score for the Devils. While he is at the branch, everyone is invited to take photos with Jim, who is going to sign autographs as well.

During the event, adults may also enter a drawing to win Devils prizes from Investors Bank.

Admission to the Devils Day is free and fans from across New Jersey are invited to attend. For more details, stop by the Brick branch (639 Brick Boulevard), or visit the Investors Bank website as well as the Bank's Facebook or Instagram.

Remember to arrive early, as fans will be flocking to the Devils Mobile Tour Experience, to test their shooting accuracy skills by taking slap shots on goal.

In announcing the celebration, Investors Bank's Chief Retail Banking Officer William Brown said, "We are hosting the Brick event to recognize the community's exceptional youth hockey programs that help boys and girls to achieve their potential on the rink and in their lives.
