

"Buds and Bosses" brings together the hippest in Cannabis June 29th at the Los Angeles, California Fashion District

Doors open at 6 pm at this private event. Tickets still available at (<https://www.eventhi.io/event/buds-and-bosses-1225>)

Following their successful March event, "Buds & Bosses" comes back to Los Angeles on June 29th, 2019 with a cornucopia of health and beauty cannabis exhibitors, influencers, and speakers. This Saturday evening soiree is presented by Ali Ganji, president of Persepolis Brands (which recently acquired original underwriter Grassroots Brands) and the Lazarus Experience.

Doors open at 6 pm at this private event (VIP passes include gift bags). Dinner, drinks, and music will be served throughout the night. Forums include PTSD, Pain Management (focused on Chronic Regional Pain Syndrome), and Cannabis Entrepreneurship. Tickets are still available at (<https://www.eventhi.io/event/buds-and-bosses-1225>).

Coming at the end of LGBTQ (now LGBTQI plus) Awareness Month, Buds & Bosses will celebrate the important connection between the Cannabis and the LGBTQ community (the LGBTQ community in California were the first main activists pushing for medicinal cannabis laws), as well as honor PTSD (Post Traumatic Stress Syndrome) Awareness Day (June 27th) by bringing together members of the veteran community.

Buds & Bosses co-founder, cannabis formulator, and patient advocate Mary Perdew, sees her passion project as part of the necessary evolution of cannabis in healthcare, "We're here to make a statement in a positive peaceful manner. We're here to empower patients with a platform to be heard and to bring them together with those who have the means to make that positive difference in their lives."

Mary is a living example of such empowerment, having been able to better manage an often-crippling chronic migraine condition with medical cannabis. She wanted to help others navigate this often-difficult terrain, "Our event offers a safe haven for patients, health professionals, and first-time users to learn, talk about their experiences, ask questions, get to know some quality brands and meet those fighting similar health battles. We invite members of the medical and business community to come in the hopes we can change some minds and some laws while we're at it!"

In addition to sumptuous food and beverages, attendees will get to sample carefully curated beauty and health products from a variety of vendors and sponsors. Public Relations provided by
