

ZOOMAWAY ANNOUNCES START OF THE THIRD PHASE OF DEVELOPMENT

RENO, NEVADA, UNITED STATES, June 27, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- ZoomAway Travel Inc. (TSXV: ZMA) (the "Company") www.zoomaway.com, a leader in the hospitality technology sector, is pleased to announce that it has begun production on the third phase of its flagship product, ZoomedOUT.

In the second milestone, the company and its production partner, Zero 8 Studio's successfully completed the second phase of production. It included: building the initial wireframe of the product, adding various utility (i.e. hospitality) features, beginning development on the UI/UX design, established the products look and feel and the creation of a product teaser video giving a taste of what's to come.

The third milestone features the completion of the product wireframing and the introduction of various gamification components, completing development on the UI/UX, and creating numerous sections of the Las Vegas strip in true 3D.

This new milestone coupled with others that will follow are where the product takes shape and where the Company begins to lay the visual 3D representation of the world over the API mapping framework. In addition to showing how the marriage of game and the hospitality utility are eventually expected to work, the Company will demonstrate how users will engage in each facet of the platform and in turn how that affects the multiple revenue streams within the product.

The Company anticipates publishing more videos upon the completion of future milestones that will show even more detail while demonstrating the products key features for marketing, and the onboarding of clients to this 3D advertising platform.

Sean Schaeffer, CEO of Zoomaway Travel, commented, "In the second phase of production, we demonstrated briefly what the "utility" or hospitality components of the app were. The third phase of production is very important as we will begin to introduce our audience to the game
