

Carpet Cleaner Market Size to Reach Values over $900 Million by 2024 | Arizton

The penetration of internet and smartphones and the growing trend of online shopping have boosted the online carpet cleaner market globally

CHICAGO, IL, UNITED STATES, July 3, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The global carpet cleaner market is projected to reach values over $900 million by 2024, growing at a CAGR of approximately 6% during 2018–2024.

The rise in commercial construction activities, the demand for carpet flooring in the hospitality industry, the popularity of rental equipment services, and the emergence of green cleaning technology are the major factors driving the global carpet cleaner market.

Global carpet cleaner market size share 2024

The increasing popularity of green cleaning, which refers to the usage of products and services that have less impact on human health and the environment, is driving the carpet cleaner market. Hence, the introduction of innovative cleaning technology, the increasing popularity of renting professional equipment, and the growing adoption of environmentally sustainable services are expected to drive the market globally in the coming years. Another major innovation witnessed in the market is the introduction of cordless or battery powered carpet cleaners. Vendors are introducing smart wash automatic cleaners, which consist of motion sensing auto cleaning technology and auto mix technology that automatically mixes the dispenses solution for optimal cleaning.

clean small areas due to their compactness and maneuverability. Europe was the second largest market for carpet steamers in 2018; however, APAC is expected to grow at a healthy CAGR during the forecast period.

Commercial, residential, and contract cleaners are the three major end-users in the carpet cleaner market. In 2018, the commercial segment was the largest end-user. The global commercial real estate market experienced rapid growth in 2018 due to increased global investments, which inevitably fueled the demand for cleaning amenities, including carpet cleaners. Also, the increased application of these cleaners in corporate offices, hospitality, and retail sectors is expected to increase the demand for carpet spot cleaners worldwide. Corporate offices comprised the second largest segment in the market in 2018.

Offline and online are the two primary distribution modes for the carpet cleaner market. Offline sales accounted for approximately 85% market share in 2018. However, online sales are gaining prominence due to rising internet penetration and the rapid expansion of online retailing. The penetration of internet and smartphones and the growing trend of online shopping have boosted the online carpet cleaner market globally. APAC and MEA are emerging as the high potential regions in the market and are expected to increase the sale of carpet cleaning machine globally.
