Bisous For Léo

ABOUT BISOUS FOR LEÓ

Bisous for Léo was founded by Léo's parents after learning of their son's diagnosis with Infantile Neuroaxonal Dystrophy at just two-years-old. INAD is a rare genetic neurodegenerative disease often referred to as "Parkinson's mixed with Alzheimer's affecting kids." Bisous for Léo is seeking to raise an initial $500,000 to fund research and development in gene therapy. The need for funding is urgent, as the progression of INAD is rapid after the onset of symptoms.

ABOUT ROBERT DEYBER

Robert Deyber is an American artist who was born and raised in Greenwich, Connecticut. He began drawing at an early age. Deyber's artistic roots hail from the Surrealist movement; he counts Salvador Dalí, René Magritte, Henri Rousseau, Henri Matisse, Marc Chagall and Andy Warhol among his primary influences. Deyber's artwork is ripe with surprise and humor. Each painting a visual rendering of a clever turn on a common phrase.

"SEAL WITH A KISS" offers art lovers a novel opportunity to enjoy the brilliance of Robert Deyber — his influences, his vision and the techniques he utilizes — while also supporting an extremely worthwhile cause.
