is the newest service available from KDG. This new service helps businesses migrate their financial data from Quickbooks to Zoho Books. KDG's team of accountants then performs regular bookkeeping and back-end services such as bank reconciliations, monthly invoicing, payroll automation, expense reporting, and even custom report building.

“Businesses rely on their financial reports to make important decisions, but bad data means bad reporting” explains Judy Perry, Senior Zoho Consultant at KDG. “We make sure they have the right tools to easily run accurate reports, in addition to performing end-to-end services that help take more exhausting financial tasks off their plate.”

KDG has a team of accountants and developers on hand to help perform this service and offer support. The entire team is also Zoho Books certified, meaning that clients and customers have direct access to the industry's top experts.
