

Family-friendly 4th of July Revel Bring Hundreds to Clearwater Community Volunteers Center

CLEARWATER, FL, US, July 11, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- In honor of the 4th of July, the Clearwater Community Volunteers Center hosted an Independence Day celebration for 367 children and their parents. The festivities began at 6 p.m. with guests invited to watch educational PSAs such as "Freedom of Expression" from the A/V display along with other fun activities like made-to-order waffles, several arts and crafts stations and a raffle.

Visitors stayed for hours beating the Florida summer heat inside the CCV Center's Café-style Gathering Space before heading back out to the Osceola Courtyard where further family fun awaited. There children made one-of-a-kind bracelets from colorful thread and beads and American Flags from construction paper.

Guests were invited to tour the humanitarian program centers along North Fort Harrison Avenue.

"Our Centers provide paths to freedom for a variety of causes – freedoms as delineated by the United Nations Universal Declaration of Human Rights, freedom from drug abuse, freedom from an immoral life, freedom to be in control of one's own future," said Michael Soltero, the Director of the CCV Center.

The 4th of July meant freedom for the United States in 1776. Working to uplift our community and those who live within it is vital to maintaining that freedom."

Michael Soltero, Manager of the CCV Center

Participants were given 'passports' to take to each center. For every center they visited, the guests received a chance to enter a prize drawing. Michael Soltero, Manager of the CCV Center announced the winners of the drawing at Osceola Courtyard announcing the winners of a men's gift basket, a children's arts and crafts kit as well as the grand prize.

"The 4th of July meant freedom for the United States in 1776." said Soltero. "Working to uplift our community and those who live within it is vital to maintaining that freedom. With the help of our volunteers and the social betterment campaigns
