- Plan for Everything – Plan for things that could go wrong – no matter how little the chance. This is the best way to ensure your VIP's experience is a good one. Go over the itinerary very carefully and look for anything that might pose a risk, then reduce that risk as much as you can with preplanning. You should also come up with a "Plan B" for things that cannot be prevented. For example, you should know where the nearest medical center is located, have extra personnel (including bodyguards, if needed) on call, and even inspect your transportation well in advance.
