

Hackers Congress Paralelni Polis 2019: Last Call for Speakers

The renowned event is back with the theme – OPT OUT – covering how to fix a broken system, escape censorship and attain freedom with the help of technology.

PRAGUE, CZECH REPUBLIC, August 6, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The deadline for speaker applications for the 6th Hackers Congress Paralelni Polis (#hccp19) is coming to a close on August 15, 2019. Event organisers are reaching out to the global community with a final call for participation.

#hccp19 is a shockingly beautiful Prague-based event which this year explores the binding constraints of global political and economic systems, with speakers offering insights into technologies, such as digital currencies and blockchain, and alternative social and business constructs that can help humanity opt-out, flourish and regain its senses.

Tomáš Kolman, HCCP lead coordinator, says: "Opting-out of any system starts with understanding how things really work. Traditionally, our speakers have been cypherpunks, digital privacy extremists, cryptocurrency experts and freedom fighters. This year we have added economists, sociologists, geologists and artists to challenge the conventional mindset about what freedom really is and how to achieve it."

The Hackers Congress Paralelni Polis is a well-loved, annual, European event that covers the intersection of technology, art and freedom activism, and is held in its own stunning venue.”
