

Demand for Tarps Surges for Hurricane Season

Company increases resources to meet the demands of governmental bodies, municipalities, businesses and consumers bracing for Hurricanes

ST. JOSEPH, MICHIGAN, UNITED STATES, August 5, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Tarps Now® is pleased to announce the increase in available tarps actively sought in preparation and for the aftermath of hurricanes which deliver devastating levels of damage to roofing, windows, interior rooms and thresholds areas, as well as Tarps used for lifting and removing debris, collecting fresh rainwater and containing soil erosion.

With ready access to specialty tarps rarely available in "big box" retail stores, the advance purchase of specialty tarps greatly enhances the ability to mitigate damages and preserve assets that have not been destroyed by high winds, storm surges and extended periods of heavy rainfall.

To meet this need, Tarps Now® has increased its complete line of products for sale to the public, businesses, state, federal, military and other governmental agencies through their website located at www.tarpsnow.com, no other firm provides the depth and breadth of tarp products and other industrial grade fabrics specifically engineered to meet the needs of hurricane disaster recovery.
