

Home Truths on Renting vs. Buying from Grant Cardone of Cardone Capital

Real estate investment expert Grant Cardone explodes the myth of the 'American Dream.'

AVENTURA, FL, USA, August 8, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Renowned real estate guru Grant Cardone is single-handedly changing the face of the real estate investment industry with Cardone Capital. Comprising a diversified portfolio of multi-family properties spanning multiple U.S. states, the firm currently has $1.2 billion of assets under management. And having built his multimillion-dollar real estate empire from the ground up without the need to raise capital from anyone other than close family members, Cardone has some sound advice for anyone who wants to be rich.

Grant Cardone

When it comes to the question of whether you should rent or buy your own home, Cardone has some strong opinions:

“Nobody should buy their own home. Buying your own home is one of the worst investments you could make. Homes are not built for people. Homes are built for the banks – it’s the perfect product for them to make money.”

According to Cardone, people have been brainwashed for decades into believing that they should own their own homes. Home ownership is touted as the sure way to ensure retirement, with the promise of being debt-free and financially secure in old age.

“It’s a myth. Buying a house isn’t an investment because it doesn’t pay you every month; in fact, it gets you further into debt. It’s a liability, and one that you’re stuck with for the rest of your life. Sure, you can sell, but you still need to find somewhere else to live. Instead of investing in a house, focus on investing in yourself by becoming better at what you do. Then once you have a decent income, think about investing in something that will pay you. Multifamily real estate is the ideal choice – it will provide you with a regular passive income, and over time it will allow you to get rich.”

In validation of the company’s claims, 5-star reviews are appearing on Facebook and Google on an almost daily basis. Clients who in days gone by would not have been able to meet the requirements as accredited investors are happy to be able to follow the advice of an industry leader like Grant Cardone:
