“In a relatively short period of time Apollo Med has distinguished itself as a company dedicated to bringing cutting edge products and training programs to the aesthetics market” said Dr. Richard Goldfarb, “Their dedication to providing physicians and medical practitioners with the tools and training necessary to provide superior service to patients is why I chose to align with Apollo. I look forward to working with Apollo’s management team and Medical Advisory Council to build upon its solid foundation.”

“We are thrilled to announce that Dr. Richard Goldfarb has agreed to join the Apollo Med Innovations leadership team in such an important capacity”, said Randy Wright, CEO, Apollo Med Innovations, “Dr. Goldfarb has proven throughout his distinguished career to be a world class physician and a visionary leader in the space of plastic surgery and medical aesthetics. His leadership and vision will be a welcome addition to our management team and our Medical Advisory Council.

In addition Dr. Goldfarb will also serve as a lecturer and teacher at certain of the Company’s Advanced and Specialty PDO thread training courses. Apollo’s PDO Thread training program is designed to provide doctors, medical practitioners and leading aesthetic practices with both an extensive hands-on education as well as a didactic session focused on the value and efficacy of PDO thread procedures and patient diagnostic techniques. Attendees gain a broad educational foundation in PDO threads led by some of the world’s most experienced and trusted doctors with a ratio of no less than 1 doctor trainer for every 5 attendees. Apollo’s Advanced and Specialty PDO Thread classes are designed to provide attendees with enough hands-on experience (the average attendee works on multiple models and places hundreds of PDO threads) to feel comfortable adding PDO threads as a meaningful part of their practice.

The upcoming Advanced and Specialty PDO Thread Training Schedule is as follows:

- New York, NY – August 24 and 25
- Dallas, TX – September 21 and 22
- Orlando, FL – September 28 and 29
- Eft. Lauderdale, FL – October 12 and 13
- Atlanta, GA – November 2 and 3
- New York, NY – December 7 and 8

The Company's 2020 training calendar will be announced shortly.

This Master PDO thread training curriculum utilizes FDA-cleared Miracu PDO threads exclusively. Miracu PDO threads utilize superior needle and thread technology as well as the industries' widest selection of threads to provide patients with superior outcomes and comfort.
