17 YEAR OLD ATLANTA, GA-BASED SINGER-SONGWRITER RELEASES HIS FIRST EP TITLED "3PK"

ATLANTA, GA, USA, August 19, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- At the top of the year, Andrew moved from his small hometown of Bremen, GA to Atlanta, GA to be closer to his management team and producer. Shortly following, he went on his first national tour supporting Njomza (Ariana Grande) making his way throughout the West and East coast. After spending the summer in the studio, Andrew Weaver is set to follow-up his 2018 fall single releases with his first EP, 3PK. This EP shows not only his growth over the past year but his dedication to his career. Andrew gives thanks to Atlanta's music scene and artists for inspiring him to push himself and his songwriting. The EP begins with summer groovy and fan-favorite, "Icebreaker", that follows Andrew as he navigates the ups and downs of first dates. "Small Talk" hits with a big chorus pointing out the difficulty of pointless small talk and desire to discover more below the surface of people. "Autopilot" pivots from his acoustic-pop sound and brings the listener into a moody and trance-like pop vibe. With a dedicated and ready-for-more fanbase, this EP is highly anticipated but don't expect Andrew to stop here, "We haven't stopped in the studio. I'm always writing, always creating. It won't stop and I can't wait to share it with you all".
