

Sangria on Tap at the Hulmeville Inn

HULMEVILLE, PENNSYLVANIA, UNITED STATES, August 21, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Hulmeville Inn announces its newest selection on tap, a homemade sangria. The Hulmeville Inn is rolling out a homemade sangria which will rotate in flavor based on the changing of the seasons.

The first flavor on tap is a refreshing peach sangria, which is a perfect end-of-summer beverage. The peach sangria is made in house and fortified with peach vodka, peach schnapps, and orange liqueur, and then served to patrons on the rocks with a slice of peach.

The sangria uses Chablis as a base, which is frequently described as having citrus and white flower aromas with dry, lean, light-bodied flavors of citrus and pear.

Next, Pinnacle peach vodka is added to the sangria which helps to capture the light sweetness of a juicy peach, while the Dekuyper peachtree schnapps adds a liqueur that is bursting with the taste of tree-ripe peaches.

To perfect the recipe, we finish off our sangria by adding a small amount of house-made simple syrup. The result is a light and fruity, refreshing blend which is perfect for the remaining summer months.

Next up on tap will be a watermelon sangria with a sweeter Moscato as a base. The fall's change of leaves will bring red sangrias and flavors of pumpkin spice to the tap. Winter's cold months with then bring flavors of mulled wine and winter cheer.
