SEO is an abbreviation of search engine optimization. Search engine optimization (SEO) refers to a methodology of techniques, strategies, and tactics used to augment a website's visitor count through obtaining a high-ranking placement in the search engine result page. These search engines include Bing, Yahoo, and Google. A report launched by QYResearch Group has mentioned that the global search engine optimization (SEO) software market is anticipated to exhibit fast-paced growth during the forecast period of 2019-2025.

Varied factors supporting the growth of the global search engine optimization (SEO) software market include a high internet penetration across the globe and rising demand for enhanced artificial intelligence. Further, the software has made the integration of effective search engine optimization tactics more scalable, faster, and accurate. This software also provides insights such as keyword ranking, keyword density, as well as ROI prioritization.

However, there are concerns regarding data privacy among end-consumers which are anticipated to restrain the growth of the market for (SEO) search engine optimization software over the forecast period. Alternatively, consumers looking for scalable SEO solutions are bound to adopt search engine optimization software, driving the market.
