Harbourside Place, Jupiter's premier downtown destination for shopping, dining, luxury hotel accommodations, entertainment, and boating, wishes students, teachers and parents a safe, productive and healthy 2019/2020 school year.

Harbourside Place is excited to announce the Harbourside Arts & Entertainment Scholarship (HAES). HAES will be accepting submissions from students across all age groups including lower elementary, upper elementary, middle school and high school. The HAES committee anticipates thousands of submissions from students who reside or attend school in Jupiter and Tequesta and will narrow the submissions to the top applicants from each age group and sector of the arts.

"This is an enormous undertaking for our committee, but one we have been looking forward to launching for years. We are so thrilled that we're finally able to make this a reality," said Nicholas Mastroianni III, supporter and committee member of HAES. "I have children in our local school system and I am constantly amazed by the talent I see children accomplish in this community. I am looking forward to this year's program and the showcases of the most talented individuals later in the school year."

The HAES committee is accepting members and will consist of professionals in various art sectors including the performing arts of acting, music, theater and dance, and the visual arts (painting, drawing, sculpture, ceramics and mixed media).

"Since opening our doors, we have strived to be strong partners with the community to keep Jupiter a world-class community. For years, Harbourside has been proud to provide resources,
