Built on Binance Chain's radical new technology, it is a next generation BEP-2 token which will allow business transfers to be faster and more secure than ever before. The cross-chain processing ECO token is the brain and innovative onboarding ramp for businesses in the Ecosystem.

Enterprises ranging from Insurance, Agriculture, Energy, Mining, Real Estate Rentals, Health, Trading, Payments and Online Retail will be signed on to the system - categorized into 'side-chains' - and propelled into the blockchain age.

"We are delighted to be collaborating with BW.com and indeed Binance Chain to bring a BEP2 token of this magnitude and ambition to the world," a spokesperson for ECO said. "The new project will radicalise blockchain interoperability between businesses and users, ensuring that Blockchain actually means business from now on".
