

As Amazon Burns, New Documentary - Exclusively on Amazon Prime - Shows Huge Role of Meat and Dairy in Deforestation

Countdown to Year Zero explains how our addiction to meat and dairy is killing the planet and why we must change now or face an ecological apocalypse!

MARINA DEL REY, CA, UNITED STATES, August 29, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- As the Amazon fires rage, puncturing the lungs of the earth, the mostly untold story is animal agriculture's huge role in this completely avoidable devastation. The fires have largely been set by cattle ranchers and farmers using flame to clear land for cattle grazing and to grow crops to feed the tens of billions of farmed animals raised and killed for food every year.

Countdown to Year Zero, now exclusively on Amazon Prime Video, lays out exactly how animal agriculture, is forcing wildlife into extinction at an alarming rate by destroying wildlife habitats to clear land for animal agriculture. The film's protagonist, Dr Sailesh Rao, predicts that, if we don't create a massive cultural shift to a plant-based lifestyle within eight years, we will have virtually no wild vertebrates left, except in zoos. That will trigger an environmental catastrophe that will, in turn, lead to political and societal chaos, with millions of people displaced by climate change.

Countdown to Year Zero features public statements from actress Alicia Silverstone, Nobel Peace Prize nominee Greta Thunberg, legendary primatologist Dr. Jane Goodall, actor/activist James Cromwell, Moby, Sea Shepherd's Captain Paul Watson of Whale Wars fame, TV celebrity chef Mario Fabbrì, the Nonhuman Rights Project's Steven M. Wise, the Save Movement's Anita Krajnc and Amy Jean Davis, Rowdy Girl Sanctuary's Renee King-Sonnen, social media stars Earthling Ed, James Aspey, Ryuji Chua and Genesis Butler! Actress Gianna Simone and powerhouse attorney Lisa R. Bloom lent their support as executive producers. Directed by Jane Unchained News founder Jane Velez-Mitchell. Edited by Jeff Adams. #AmazonPrime #PrimeVideo
