Dwagie was also named the Chief Music Director at Hip Hop Palace at the National Palace Museum in Taiwan. Outside of the hip hop scene Dwagie is known for his best-selling single, "Taiwan Song", which projects an unapologetic Taiwanese assertiveness in the current turbulent political climate.

Sami Chen (囍囍囍) Lead Designer of HappyFish will show in her 5th season at New York Fashion Week, following her successful first 4 seasons with Rolls Royce and Monster. This Season's collection entitled "BELieve in YOUrself" (BE YOU) is the designers message to all humanity to value their own uniqueness and self worth and to shrug off the false pressures of society and social media. Sami's deep belief that kids as well as adults all deserve to be valued for who they are in a positive fear free environment has inspired her creations of beauty to be shown on the runway September 5th. Sami who learned her trade at Shih Chien School of Fashion in Taiwan. Sami is also an accomplished concert pianist and has won many competitions since the age of 5. Also "hopping the runway" will be social media star MIFFY the Bunny (@Bunny.NYC on Instagram and Tiktok) for his 3rd appearance at NYFW. Miffy brings smiles and joy daily to his multitudes of international fans and followers with some of his uplifting videos garnering millions of views.

Cristian Rivera Foundation: Cristian Rivera's journey and determination inspired his father, John "Gungie" Rivera, to start the Cristian Rivera Foundation, a New York City-based 501(c)(3) not-for-profit organization, that is committed to finding a cure for Diffuse Intrinsic Pontine Glioma (DIPG) (a form of pediatric brain cancer) through education, program funding and family support. The foundation strives to increase public awareness and understanding of Pontine Glioma, as well as raise funds that will support medical facilities and scientific trials whose primary focus is to find a cure for the disease.
