Private investors and affluent families are top targets for cybercriminals and online scams. Brad Deflin presents on what is happening and how to protect.

WEST PALM BEACH, FL, 33401, September 9, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Total Digital Security announced today that its founder and CEO, Cybersecurity expert Brad Deflin will speak at the Total Wealth Symposium on September 13th and 14th at the Amelia Island Resort in Florida. This is the fifth consecutive year Mr. Deflin will address private investors at the annual conference on cybercrime and protection from digital risk.

Cybersecurity for Life.

According to researchers at Cybersecurity Ventures, we will soon experience the greatest transfer of wealth in the history of humankind - $ 6 trillion annually by 2021. Recognizing the potentially devastating impact of cybercrimes on private clients, investors, and wealthy families,

We believe taking the initiative to protect personal technology and information from cybercrime and online fraud is one of the smartest things you can do today.”

Brad Deflin, CEO

Mr. Deflin presents a fresh perspective that empowers individuals to self-protect with higher critical-thinking skills and advanced technology. Delivering deep insights into today's cybersecurity issues with an emphasis on the human-factor and individual adaptation, Mr. Deflin will educate conference attendees on matters of cyber risk and risk mitigation in all aspects of personal and professional life.

For years, Mr. Deflin has been warning audiences across the country that cybercrime presents a pervasive, existential risk that requires adaptation at the individual level for survival and success of all social structures. He insists that in order to respond to the challenges of the Digital Age, everyone today needs a new set of critical thinking skills enabling prevention, detection, and responsible reaction to myriad forms of cyber risks and crimes.
