LONDON, GREATER LONDON, UK, September 10, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The civic services market expected to reach a value of nearly $1173.63 billion by 2022, significantly growing at a CAGR of 17.6% during the forecast period. The growth in the civic services market is due to increased donations to faith-based, educational and health organizations, especially in the least developed and developing countries. However, the market for civic services is expected to face certain restraints from several factors such as lack of skills, workforce issues.

The civic services market consists of the sales of civic services and related goods earned by entities (organizations, sole traders and partnerships) that organize and promote religious activities; support various causes through grant making; advocate various social and political causes; and promote and defend the interests of their members. A service can be defined as a transaction between a buyer and a seller without the transfer of any physical goods or commodities. Examples of civic service organizations include community associations or organizations, ethnic associations, fraternal associations or lodges, girl guiding organizations, history societies, parent-teacher associations, retirement associations, scouting organizations, and students' associations.
