

MHealth Solutions Market 2019 Industry Analysis, Share, Growth, Sales, Trends, Supply, Forecast to 2025

This report covers market characteristics, size and growth, segmentation, regional breakdowns, competitive landscape, market shares, trends and strategies

PUNE, INDIA, September 16, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- This report presents a detailed overview, market shares and growth opportunities of mHealth Solutions market by product type, application, key companies and key regions.

The global mHealth solutions market is expected to generate around USD 160.5 billion by 2024, at a compound annual growth rate of around 33.48% between 2019 and 2024.

mHealth is the provision of healthcare and related services through mobile communication devices. MHealth solutions use smartphones, tablets, and wearable devices for health services and data collection. Mobile devices act excellent sources to improve health outcomes and offer innovative health services to any part of the world via information and communication technologies.

The worldwide prevalence of life-threatening diseases is increasing due to changing lifestyle habits, sedentary lifestyle, and lack of exercise. The growing health awareness among patients is likely to boost the mHealth solutions market in the future. Additionally, the increased use of tablets, smartphones, etc. is increasing among all age groups and the penetration of third and fourth generation networks helps in providing uninterrupted health services. Healthcare professionals are focused on offering patient-centric healthcare services. The mHealth apps help maintain patient records, allow remote monitoring, consultation, and prevention and treatment services. Thus, these aforementioned factors are likely to drive the mHealth solutions market in the upcoming years. However, the lack of regulations, standards, and reimbursement policies might hamper the mHealth solutions market growth in the future.
