

Apollos University Honors the World's Labor Force

Apollos Offers: Accelerated Degree Programs and E-books at NO cost!

GREAT FALLS, MT, UNITED STATES, September 17, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Labor force issues are presenting a real crisis in the twenty first century economy. As the demand for higher skilled workers continues to increase, access to career advancing knowledge continues to become more expensive and less accessible to large portions of Americans. This leaves more and more Americans lacking the skills they need to advance their career. In fact, according to jobvite.com, 65% of recruiters cite a lack of qualified applicants as the biggest challenge in hiring.

To avoid becoming "jobsolete," workers need to increase their skill set and enhance their knowledge in areas like business operations, computer literacy, management, and accounting and finance. With September being the month we celebrate our American labor force and to honor our global community, Apollos University is offering a 50% tuition discount to new applicants who apply and begin courses in the month of September 2019 to any of its award winning certificate, undergraduate, and masters programs. Additionally, applicants seeking to advance their career by earning a Doctorate in Business Administration can enjoy a 15% tuition discount by applying and starting courses in the month of September. According to Dr. Scott Eidson, President of Apollos, "we're dedicated to our mission of providing career advancing education to all who seek it and this offer is our way of ensuring that opportunity is truly attainable." Eidson continued, stating, "Our goal is to ensure that the global community continues to grow in the necessary skills needed to meet the challenges of the twenty-first century and our programs and student services are designed to make that goal a reality."
